The Little Red Kite

Sam got a little red kite for his birthday. He ran to the park to fly it, but there was no wind. The kite would not go up. Sam felt sad. His grandpa said, "Be patient. The wind will come." Sam waited and watched the clouds. At last, a soft breeze began to blow. Sam ran fast, and the kite lifted into the sky! It danced and twirled high above the trees. Sam laughed with joy. He learned that good things come to those who wait.
