The Singing Frog

Freddy the frog loved to sing. He sang in the morning. He sang at noon. He sang all night long. "Croak! Croak! CROAK!" The other pond animals could not sleep. One night, the old turtle said, "Freddy, please sing softly. We need rest too." Freddy felt sorry. From then on, he sang sweet, quiet songs. The animals smiled and slept well. Freddy learned that a kind voice is the sweetest song.
